THE STRUGGLE OF THE MIDDLE CLASS WOMAN AS BEING A GOVERNESS REFLECTED IN ANNE BRONTE'S AGNES GREY

A. The Life Of Middle Class Women In 19th Century Era As Reflected In Anne Bronte's Agnes Grey

| No | Quotes | Forms | Pages | References | Comment |
|----|-----------------------------|-----------|-------|------------------------------|---|
| 1. | Mary and I were brought | Monologue | 17 | "Many girls of the middle | As the result of that separating, many |
| | up in the strictest | | | classes (and almost all from | middle class girls did not go to formal |
| | seclusion. My mother, | | | the lower classes) received | school like boys did. During the 19 th |
| | being at once highly | | | no formal education at all. | century era in England, girls were not |
| | accomplished, well | | | Those who were lucky | proper to go to formal school like the |
| | informed, and fond of | | | enough to be educated were | boys did. It also happens toward |
| | employment, took the | | | taught by governesses or by | Agnes and Marry. Marry and Agnes |
| | whole charge of our edu- | | | their parents." (Snodgrass | who are from middle class family do |
| | cation on herself, with the | | | 27) | not go to school in that time because it |
| | exception of Latin—which | | | | is not common for girls to go to formal |
| | my father undertook to | | | | school. They only get education from |
| | teach us—so that we never | | | | their parents in home. Their mother |

| | even went to school. | | | | teaches them the whole things that |
|----|-----------------------------|-----------|-------|------------------------------|--|
| | | | | | usually teach in formal education. |
| | | | | | Moreover, their father teaches them |
| | | | | | Latin language. Mary and Agnes |
| | | | | | spend their lives only around their |
| | | | | | home without knowing the social |
| | | | | | condition outside. |
| | | | | | |
| 2. | there was no society in the | Monologue | 17-18 | Mitchell states that "In | In 19 th century era, parents gave more |
| | neighbourhood, our only | | | addition, girls were thought | attention and protection to their |
| | intercourse with the world | | | to need more social and | daughters than their sons. That |
| | consisted in a stately tea- | | | moral protection than boys. | condition is also shown in the novel |
| | party, now and then, with | | | Parents disliked having | Agnes Grey. Agnes and her sister, |
| | the principal farmers and | | | them away from home or at | Marry, who are a daughter of middle |
| | tradespeople of the | | | large schools" (qtd in | class family get stiff protection from |
| | vicinity, just to avoid | | | Pintilii 224). | their parents. Their parents really care |
| | being stigmatized as too | | | | about their social interaction in |
| | proud to consort with our | | | | outside. Agnes and Marry's parents |
| | neighbors, and an annual | | | | give more protection to them. Girls do |

| vis | sit to our paternal | | | | not go far away from their houses. |
|--------|---------------------------|-----------|----|--------------------------|--|
| gra | randfather's, where | | | | Like Agnes and Marry who only know |
| hir | mself, our kind | | | | the life in their home and only little |
| gra | andmamma, a maiden | | | | around home. As Agnes says that they |
| au | int, and two or three | | | | live in strict seclusion, Agnes and |
| eld | derly ladies and | | | | Mary do not go away from home. |
| gei | entlemen, were the only | | | | Their parents limit their social |
| per | ersons we ever saw | | | | intercourse. They usually only have |
| | | | | | tea party with principal farmer and |
| | | | | | some people around them. Agnes and |
| | | | | | Mary are only go out when they visit |
| | | | | | their relatives family once a year. This |
| | | | | | treat appears as the result of idea of |
| | | | | | separating sphere because women are |
| | | | | | weaker than men, so it makes parents |
| | | | | | give more attention to their daughter. |
| | | | | | |
| 3. "tr | ransformed into an active | Monologue | 22 | Wilhelm pointed out that | About the role of married |
| ma | anaging housewife, with | | | "and women were to | women of middle class family, women |

| hands and head | organize the household, | become the center of the house. Like |
|---------------------------|----------------------------|--|
| continually occupied with | oversee their children's | Agnes's mother who become the |
| household labours and | education and provide a | centre in the house. When a single |
| household economy. The | tranquil and peaceful | woman becomes a married woman, |
| very willingness with | environment at home. | she would be able to change herself be |
| which she bore her | Women should also teach | a good wife. For married women of |
| reserves,". | their children and male | middle class, their centre lives is in the |
| | relatives moral values and | house. Their main duty is household |
| | good virtues." (qtd in | duties and takes care of the family. |
| | Carlsson 6). | The middle class usually families do |
| | | not have servants like upper class |
| | | families to take care anything in the |
| | | house, so the wives must manage |
| | | many things. Agnes's mother is a wife |
| | | of clergyman, she must perform |
| | | herself as a wife for manage |
| | | household duties and manage the |
| | | economy of the family. As a wife, she |
| | | must takes care her husband and her |

| | | | | | daughters. She pays attention of what |
|----|-----------------------------|------------|----|------------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| | | | | | her husband and her daughters needs. |
| | | | | | It also happens to Agnes' mother. |
| | | | | | Agnes' mother is representation of |
| | | | | | married woman of middle class |
| | | | | | woman in that time. |
| | | | | | |
| 4. | 'You cannot, indeed, dear | Dialogue - | 24 | Lundén et al : "The | The kinds of education that middle |
| | child. Go and practise your | Monologue | | education of women | class women received are different |
| | music, or play with the | | | consisted of learning to | from the men. Women at that time |
| | kitten.' | | | sing, dance, and play the | usually learn about dancing, singing, |
| | There was always plenty | | | piano, to draw, read, write, | and drawing to attract men, so they |
| | of sewing on hand ;but I | | | some arithmetic and French | can be married. Agnes as middle class |
| | had not been taught to cut | | | and to do embroidery" (qtd | women also learns about music and |
| | out a single garment | | | in Andersson 2) | sewing. Her mother teaches her about |
| | | | | | music and how to sewing. This is a |
| | | | | | usual thing to do by middle class |
| | | | | | women in that time. Women at that |
| | | | | | time could do embroidery that would |

| 5. | "while he had money he | Monologue | 18 | "Since women of this period | be useful to take care of their husbands and families. That is why Agnes' mother asks her to practice those things rather than helping her mother. Even though Agnes is not really interested in sewing, she must practice it every day because it might be useful for her future. Dealing with the financial security of |
|----|---|-----------|----|--|---|
| | must spend it: he liked to see his house comfortable, | | | had no claim to ownership of property, so they were | |
| | and his wife and daughters | | | financially dependent on | their fathers, if they were not married |
| | well clothed, and well | | | their parents and after | yet. Women were not proper to work |
| | attended" | | | marriage on their | in that time. Mr. Grey as a father and |
| | | | | husbands." (Nagar 122) | husband must maintain the finance to |
| | | | | | her daughter, Agnes and Mary, also |
| | | | | | her wife. As a Husband and a father, |
| | | | | | Mr. Grey should be responsible to |
| | | | | | fulfill the needs of women in his |

| | | | | | family. Mr. Grey as father and |
|----|------------------------------|-----------|----|-------------------------------|--|
| | | | | | husband from middle class family gets |
| | | | | | responsibility to charge the financial |
| | | | | | security for his wife and his daughters. |
| | | | | | In 19 th century era women had no |
| | | | | | claim of owning property and they did |
| | | | | | not work so they charged their |
| | | | | | financial stability to their parents and |
| | | | | | husbands. Since Agnes and Mary do |
| | | | | | no work, they are burdening their |
| | | | | | finance to their fathers, the only man |
| | | | | | who has a job in the family. |
| | | | | | |
| 6. | How delightful it would be | Monologue | 27 | "If their family encountered | Women in Victorian England had |
| | to be a governess! To go | | | a sudden economic | difficult and unfortunate position on |
| | out into the world; to enter | | | downfall, unmarried women | society. After Agnes's father is ill, |
| | into a new life; to act for | | | had to fend for themselves. | their financial becomes downfall |
| | myself; to exercise my | | | In this case, it was regarded | because her father is the only person |
| | unused faculties; to try | | | as a solerespectable | who works. That is why Agnes |

| | know my unknown | | | occupation for a lady to | decides to be a governess, because in |
|----|------------------------------|----------|----|-------------------------------|--|
| | powers; to earn my own | | | workas a governess." (Nao | that time being a governess is a |
| | maintenance, and | | | 9) | prospect job for middle class woman |
| | something to comfort and | | | | to maintain her finance. In 19 th century |
| | help my father, mother, | | | | era, when middle class women had no |
| | and sister, besides | | | | one who could respectable about her |
| | exonerating them from the | | | | finance then governess became the |
| | provision of my food and | | | | best choice to earn money. Agnes |
| | clothing | | | | thinks that being governess would be |
| | | | | | delightful because Agnes can also help |
| | | | | | her family to pay their debt after their |
| | | | | | finance downfall. |
| 7. | "Mary, you are a beautiful | Dialogue | 25 | "As to the painting, women | Besides being a governess, some |
| | drawer. What do you say | | | were considered as not so | women of middle class use their skill |
| | to doing a few more | | | skillful and well educated to | of painting to earn money for their |
| | pictures in your best style, | | | make their living by | living. In 19 th century era women of |
| | and getting them framed, | | | painting or by other artistic | middle class were actually educated |
| | with the water-coloured | | | work. Painting was | even though they were limited in |
| | drawings you have already | | | considered to be a favourite | formal education than men. Since |

| | done, and trying to dispose | pastime of women. | ' middle class women had some skill |
|----|-----------------------------|--------------------------|--|
| | of them to some liberal | (Vlková 15) | such as singing, playing piano and |
| | picture-dealer, who has the | | drawing, the skill of painting can be |
| | sense to discern their | | useful for women get their own |
| | merits?" | | money. In the novel shows that Mary |
| | | | who is Agnes's sister use her skill of |
| | "Mamma, I should be | | painting to earn money to help her |
| | delighted if you think they | | family. Mrs. Grey says that Mary is a |
| | could be sold; and for | | beautiful drawer, and she hopes that |
| | anything worthwhile." () | | Mary can sell some of her pictures in |
| | | | dealer. Mary feels delight that she |
| | | | could help her family to pay their debt. |
| | | | Besides that, same as Agnes she can |
| | | | maintain her own finance and help her |
| | | | family. |
| | | | and the second s |
| 8. | | Unfortunately for middle | - The reality in 19 th century era utterly |
| | | class women, th | e forced women of middle class family |
| | | demographics and overal | l to choose between being married or |

| structure of Victorian | being single women and became the |
|-------------------------------|---|
| culture did very little to | part of outsider of society. Though |
| make the "work" of getting | marriage was preferred for middle |
| married easy Even if the | class woman, unluckily for middle |
| woman's family were able | class women, marriage was not |
| to accumulate an | working easily for middle class |
| appropriate dowry—a | women. In the novel also shows the |
| formidable task in itself, | reality. Mr. Grey hesitated his |
| especially if the family was | daughters could marry someday |
| not wealthy or there were | because they are only middle class |
| several daughters, the man's | family with a debt that must be pay. |
| family might choose not to | Mr. Grey hesitated that someday his |
| accept the dowry or might | daughters could marry, because there |
| require a "better" offer that | are man's families would not accept |
| was beyond the means of | marriage if the woman's family do not |
| the woman's family. | have such a good wealth and money. |
| (Snodgrass 17) | Marriage in that time always consist |
| | the deal of two families to match their |
| | children. When a woman wants to |

| | | marry, the woman must consider about |
|--|--|--------------------------------------|
| | | the money or the wealth that the |
| | | parents have. As Agnes's father |
| | | hesitates that there is a man would |
| | | marry their daughters when their |
| | | financial was downfall. |
| | | |

| No | Quotes | Forms | Pages | References | Comment |
|----|----------------------------|----------|-------|-----------------------------|---|
| 1. | "I have ordered her crib | Dialogue | 37 | "they might also be asked | In 19 th century era, being governess is |
| | to be placed in your room, | | | to assume the duties of | the only job for middle class women |
| | and if you will be so kind | | | nursery maids or lady's | could do. There were many women |
| | as to overlook her washing | | | maids. An oversupply of job | applying to be governess and it |
| | and dressing, and take | | | seekers led governesses to | became competitive. This condition |
| | charge of her clothes, she | | | accept such working | made some employers took |
| | need have nothing further | | | conditions. At the same | advantages from governesses. Even |
| | to do with the nursery | | | time, these norms reflected | though the main job of a governess |
| | maid." | | | poorly on the employers | was teaching, a governess also |
| | | | | who took advantage of the | accepted to do the duties as nursery |
| | | | | surplus of governesses | for the pupils. In one side is not fair |
| | | | | seeking employment." | for Agnes because it is not her duties, |
| | | | | (Knight 4) | but in the other side Agnes must |
| | | | | | accept the condition because she |
| | | | | | needs the job to get her finance. |
| | | | | | During Agnes works as a governess |

B. The Struggle Of Agnes Grey As Being A Governess In 19th Century Era As Reflected In Anne Bronte's Agnes Grey

| | | | | | in the Bloomfield family she must |
|----|----------------------------|-----------|----|-----------------------------|---|
| | | | | | face some difficulties. Mrs. |
| | | | | | Bloomfield as her employer asks |
| | | | | | more services from her, not only |
| | | | | | being a private tutor for her children, |
| | | | | | Agnes is also wanted to do nursery |
| | | | | | duties. Agnes Grey must do nursery |
| | | | | | duties to her pupils. Mrs. Bloomfield |
| | | | | | as her employer takes advantages of |
| | | | | | Agnes to do nursery duty. Agnes must |
| | | | | | washing, dressing, and takes charge |
| | | | | | of the pupil's clothes. |
| | | | | | |
| 2. | " This was Mr. | Monologue | 46 | "The middle and upper | The other difficulties faced by |
| | Bloomfield. I was | | | classes were willing to | governesses are bad treatments from |
| | surprised that he should | | | entrust her with their | their employers. Middle class women |
| | nominate his children | | | children while claiming she | must struggle for their job. |
| | Master and Miss | | | was immoral. They | Sometimes they treated bad and |
| | Bloomfield, and still more | | | demanded that she have a | impolitely. The background of |

| | so, that he should speak so | | | middle class background | governess makes the employers feels |
|----|------------------------------|-----------|----|--------------------------------|---|
| | uncivilly to me, their | | | while treating her as an | superior to governesses. In the case of |
| | governess, and a perfect | | | inferior." (Knight 9) | Agnes, she gets bad and impolite |
| | stranger to himself " | | | | treatment from her employer. Mr. |
| | | | | | Bloomfield feels superior to Agnes. |
| | | | | | The quotation describes how arrogant |
| | | | | | Mr. Bloomfield is. He speaks |
| | | | | | uncivilly to Agnes when he is |
| | | | | | blaming something to Agnes. |
| | | | | | Although Agnes is the educator of his |
| | | | | | children, Mr. Bloomfield treats Agnes |
| | | | | | as an inferior because of her |
| | | | | | background. |
| | | | | | |
| 3. | My task of instruction and | Monologue | 49 | "Masters considered them to | Besides bad treatment Agnes gets |
| | surveillance, instead of be- | | | be of an inferior social class | from her employer, she also gets |
| | coming easier as my | | | and did not accept them as | difficulties from her pupils. The |
| | charges and I got better | | | an equal member of their | different character of her pupils made |
| | accustomed to each other, | | | family." (Vlková 22) | it not easy for Agnes. The job of |

| | became more arduous as | | | | governess is teaching, but some |
|----|-------------------------------|-----------|----|------------------------------|---|
| | their characters unfolded. | | | | pupils do not respect to their |
| | The name of governess, I | | | | governess as their teacher. She found |
| | soon found, was a mere | | | | that the name of governess is only |
| | mockery as applied to me: | | | | mockery for the pupils. The pupils do |
| | my pupils had no more | | | | not know how to treat their governess, |
| | notion of obedience than a | | | | she is their educator but they just treat |
| | wild, unbroken colt. | | | | governess like their nurse. This is |
| | | | | | because the position of a governess is |
| | | | | | lower than lady but upper than |
| | | | | | servant. |
| | | | | | |
| 4. | "Often he would positively | Monologue | 50 | "the mistreatment and | Furthermore, governesses must do the |
| | refuse to learn, or to repeat | | | disrespect directed toward | best in limit authorities. In the novel |
| | his lessons, or even to look | | | the governess by children, | shows the struggle of Agnes to |
| | at his book. Here, again, a | | | and her lack of authority | control the pupil with her limit |
| | good birch rod might have | | | over them and the failure of | authority. Agnes explains that when |
| | been serviceable; but, as | | | the mother to cooperate in | Agnes works in the Bloomfield's, she |
| | my powers were so | | | discipline" (Peterson 8-9). | must face the naughty and arrogant |

| | limited, I must make the | | | | pupils. Sometimes they refuse to |
|----|---------------------------|-----------|-------|-----------------------------|---|
| | best use of what I had." | | | | study. Since the power of governess is |
| | | | | | limited, Agnes cannot do many |
| | | | | | things. Agnes does not force the |
| | | | | | pupils bad. Agnes still considers their |
| | | | | | position as the children of her |
| | | | | | employer. She just tries to persuade |
| | | | | | her pupils to study. Agnes as a |
| | | | | | governess must struggle to make her |
| | | | | | pupils respect and obedient to her. |
| | | | | | |
| 5. | "I flattered myself I was | Monologue | 59-60 | On the whole, governesses | Governesses do not only get bad |
| | benefiting my parents and | | | were unhappy and | treatment from their employer and |
| | sister by my continuance | | | underpaid, with no prospect | feel lonely but they are also |
| | here; for small as the | | | of job security. (Frishtick | underpaid. Governesses in that time |
| | salary was, I still was | | | 13) | had terrible condition. Over all, |
| | earning something, and | | | | working as a governess had unsteady |
| | with strict economy I | | | | and horrible condition. In the novel |
| | could easily manage to | | | | Agnes Grey portrait the condition of |

| | have something to spare | | | | Agnes who is underpaid. With the |
|----|---------------------------|-----------|-----|---------------------------|--|
| | for them" | | | | small salary she gets, she tries to hold |
| | | | | | out working on there. She is |
| | | | | | continuing being a governess in with |
| | | | | | some pressure from her master, bad |
| | | | | | behavior of the pupils, and small |
| | | | | | salary. Agnes thinks by keeping |
| | | | | | working in Bloomfield. Although her |
| | | | | | condition in Bloomfield is unhappy, |
| | | | | | at least she can earn money for herself |
| | | | | | and for her family. So many of |
| | | | | | governesses in 19 th century era keep |
| | | | | | employ as a governess even though |
| | | | | | they were unhappy and underpaid |
| | | | | | because they need money for living. |
| | " (1) | | 100 | | |
| 6. | "she never once mentioned | Monologue | 103 | "As a result of her | Agnes tries again and she becomes |
| | mine; though they were at | | | background, the governess | governess in Murray's family. Even |
| | home, surrounded by | | | was in the precarious | though in the Murray family Agnes |

| | friends and I an alian | | | position of being neither a | gate batter treatment. A grag must deal |
|----|----------------------------|-----------|-----|------------------------------|--|
| | friends, and I an alien | | | position of being neither a | gets better treatment, Agnes must deal |
| | among strangers; and I did | | | friend with the servants nor | with selfish girls as her pupils and |
| | not yet know enough of | | | with her employers. She | other difficulties as a governess. If in |
| | the world," | | | was too educated for one | the Bloomfield Agnes is treated as |
| | | | | group and too poor for the | inferior, in the Murray family she is |
| | | | | other." (Knight 5) | treated as a stranger. This treatment is |
| | | | | | the result of the background of |
| | | | | | governess. Agnes experiences in the |
| | | | | | Murray's family that Mrs. Murray |
| | | | | | treats Agnes as a stranger in their |
| | | | | | family. Agnes cannot be friend with |
| | | | | | Murray or be a friend with the |
| | | | | | servants because she is an educated |
| | | | | | woman. Mrs. Murray feels superior to |
| | | | | | Agnes and makes Agnes that she is |
| | | | | | not the part of the family. She is only |
| | | | | | a governess |
| 7. | "I came it was the same: | Monologue | 105 | Thormahlen (81) wrote that | Dealing with the subject of lesson, |
| | everything was neglected | | | governesses taught their | there are many subject taught by |

| | but French, German, | | | pupils English grammar and | governess. In 19 th century era |
|----|----------------------------|------------|-------|--------------------------------|--|
| | music, singing, dancing, | | | literature, geography, | governess must have capability to do |
| | fancy-work, and a little | | | history and a little | various subject of education such as |
| | drawing—such drawing as | | | arithmetic. In addition, they | language, literature, music, and art. |
| | might produce the greatest | | | also taught | That makes governess is demanded to |
| | show with the smallest | | | accomplishments for | have good knowledge and good skill |
| | labour, and the principal | | | women, music, drawing, | for teaching her pupils. Agnes as a |
| | parts of which were | | | dancing and modern | governess is also demanded to have |
| | generally done by me." | | | languages. (qtd, in Nao 13) | good knowledge and good skill of |
| | | | | | singing, dancing and drawing. Agnes |
| | | | | | who is a governess must be able to |
| | | | | | teach foreign language, German and |
| | | | | | French. Beside that she teaches |
| | | | | | singing, dancing, and drawing. |
| 8. | At length she advised me | Monologue- | 89-90 | "A lot of women wishing to | Before being employed as a |
| 0. | At length, she advised me | U | 69-90 | E E | |
| | to put an advertisement, | Dialogue | | be governesses usually | |
| | myself, in the paper, | | | advertised for their positions | employer that needs a governess. As |
| | stating my qualifications, | | | in newspapers. In some | in that time there were many women |

| etc. "Music, singing, | cases, they | sought | after the | who wanted to be a governess, so it |
|--------------------------|-------------|--------|-----------|--|
| drawing, French, Latin, | assistance | of | mediating | made being a governess became a job |
| and German are no mean | agents to | find | possible | which was competitive. Agnes is the |
| assemblage: many will be | employers." | (Nao | 12) | main character in Agnes Grey decides |
| glad to have so much in | | | | to be a governess, and it makes her |
| one instructor." | | | | need an employer. Agnes put an |
| | | | | advertisement in the newspaper to get |
| | | | | employer. One of the ways to get |
| | | | | employer is by putting advertisement |
| | | | | in paper. The advertisement should |
| | | | | include the service that governess can |
| | | | | provide for the pupil. Agnes who tries |
| | | | | again as being a governess put |
| | | | | advertisement in paper. In the paper |
| | | | | she writes the qualifications that she |
| | | | | can do as a governess. She must be |
| | | | | qualified in many terms such as |
| | | | | music, singing, drawing, and some |
| | | | | foreign languages. It would attract |

| | | | | some employers to employ Agnes as |
|----|------------------------------|-----------|----|---------------------------------------|
| | | | | a governess for their children. But |
| | | | | still Agnes should wait for the reply |
| | | | | from the people who wants to employ |
| | | | | her. Some women they used agent to |
| | | | | find an employer beside using |
| | | | | advertisements in the paper. |
| | | | | |
| 9. | "I must have decent | Monologue | 93 | Beside a governess must work hard |
| | clothes becoming my | | | with low wage, governess still has to |
| | station; I must, it seemed, | | | divide her salary to the needs of |
| | put out my washing, and | | | laundry and travel. In the novel also |
| | also pay for my four | | | shows that during Agnes work in the |
| | annual journeys between | | | Murray family, Agnes should manage |
| | Horton Lodge and home; | | | her salary for her family and her |
| | but with strict attention to | | | needs. Agnes is employing in |
| | economy, surely twenty | | | Murray's family in Horton Lodge. |
| | pounds, or little more, | | | Even though Agnes is housed and fed |
| | would cover those | | | on there, Agnes who get salary fifty |

| | expenses" | | | | pound should put apart twenty pounds |
|-----|-----------------------------|-----------|----|----------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| | | | | | for her needs of laundry and her |
| | | | | | annual journey from Horton Lodge to |
| | | | | | her home. This is becoming the |
| | | | | | challenge for governess that they |
| | | | | | must be struggling with their low |
| | | | | | wage to maintain their finance for |
| | | | | | family and their own needs. |
| | | | | | |
| 10. | Mrs. Bloomfield sent for | Monologue | 83 | "Occupational problems did | Among the difficulties that |
| | me, and calmly told me | | | not end with finding a | governesses faced, the other problems |
| | that after Midsummer my | | | position and coming to | such as unemployment could appear |
| | services would be no | | | terms with the duties and | any time. That problem also comes to |
| | longer required. She | | | the children. A governess | Agnes when she worked in the |
| | assured me that my | | | always faced the danger of | Bloomfield family. Mrs. Bloomfield |
| | character and general | | | unemployment, either | decides to discharge Agnes from her |
| | conduct were | | | because her work with the | position as a governess. A year |
| | unexceptionable; but the | | | children was finished or | becoming a governess for her |
| | children had made so little | | | because her employers were | children, Mrs. Bloomfield discharged |

| | | improvement since my | | | dissatisfied with her." (13) | Agnes as a governess. Mrs. |
|---|-----|-------------------------------|-----------|-----|------------------------------|---|
| | | arrival that Mr. Bloomfield | | | | Bloomfield is not satisfied with the |
| | | and she felt it their duty to | | | | work of Agnes because of very little |
| | | seek some other mode of | | | | improvement made by the children. In |
| | | instruction. | | | | that time governess must be ready for |
| | | | | | | the possibility of unemployment. |
| | | | | | | |
| ſ | 11. | As none of the before- | Monologue | 167 | Hughes : "In the same way, | Moreover Agnes also gets poor |
| | | mentioned ladies and | | | the situation became worse | treatment from her pupils in the |
| | | gentlemen ever noticed | | | when she had to accompany | Murray family. In the novel shows |
| | | me, it was disagreeable to | | | her employers into society. | that the Murray's daughters didn't |
| | | walk beside them, as if | | | As an employee with no | know how treat their governess and |
| | | listening to what they said, | | | defined social status, she | consider Agnes as stranger. The |
| | | or wishing to be thought | | | remained as an invisible | quotation explains that in the outside, |
| | | one of them, while they | | | woman because of her lack | when Murray' daughters with their |
| | | talked over me, or across; | | | of experience in the | companion, they treat like Agnes is a |
| | | and if their eyes, in speak- | | | situation". (qtd. in Granell | servant, they act like Agnes is an |
| | | ing, chanced to fall on me, | | | 6). | invisible person among the |
| | | it seemed as if they looked | | | | companion. They act that Agnes is |
| | | | | | | |

| | on vacancy—as if they either did not see me, or were very desirous to make it appear so. | | | | not part of them and ignore her, but when they are with Agnes in private, they treat Agnes like a friend. It indicates that they actually didn't know treat their governess; sometimes a servant and sometimes a friend. |
|-----|---|-----------|-----|---|--|
| 12. | "The servants, seeing in what little estimation the governess was held by both parents and children, regulated their behaviour by the same standard. I have frequently stood up for them, at the risk of some injury to myself, but they entirely neglected my comfort, despised my | Monologue | 115 | "Also, servants often looked down upon governesses, because they had to do household chores, even though they were from middle-class families." (Nao 18-19) | down by their employers and the pupils, but sometimes the servants also looked down toward governesses. This is because the |

| requests, and slighted my | | servants, that's why sometimes |
|---------------------------|--|--|
| directions." | | servants look down to governess. |
| | | Agnes also experiences that condition |
| | | in the Bloomfield. Sometimes the |
| | | servants of Bloomfield look down to |
| | | Agnes. Agnes explains that the |
| | | servants of Bloomfield usually take |
| | | lightly toward Agnes, although |
| | | sometimes Agnes helps them when |
| | | they get difficulties from their |
| | | employers. Even though the main job |
| | | of governesses is teaching, they |
| | | usually also do house duty and |
| | | nursery duties like servants. This is |
| | | the reason why servants usually |
| | | ignore governess because they think |
| | | that Agnes is only from middle class |
| | | and she does nursery duties like them. |

| | | | | | The servants do not care with Agnes. |
|-----|----------------------------|-----------|-----|-----------------------------|---|
| 13. | "for I was lonely. | Monologue | 155 | "In addition to these | Since the lives of governesses are not |
| | Never, from month to | | | conditions, many of them | easy, they usually are not happy. The |
| | month, from year to year, | | | suffered from loneliness. | governesses are usually lonely. |
| | except during my brief | | | They were not regarded as | Governesses do not have friends |
| | intervals of rest at home, | | | family members, they must | because their uncertain positions in |
| | did I see one creature to | | | hear alone cheerful | the society. Governesses cannot be |
| | whom I could open my | | | confabulations exchanged | the part of employer's family or the |
| | heart, or freely speak my | | | between the members of | part of servants. Being governesses |
| | thoughts with any hope of | | | their employers' families." | mean that they must deal with the |
| | sympathy, or even | | | (Nao 18). | loneliness; they can only cheer |
| | comprehension" | | | | themselves to stay happy. In the |
| | | | | | novel, Agnes also feels lonely during |
| | | | | | being a governess. Agnes can be |
| | | | | | happy when she comes back to her |
| | | | | | home. As governess, Agnes has no |
| | | | | | friends to share her feeling or free to |

| | | | | | say something. |
|-----|------------------------------|-----------|----|-------------------------------|--|
| 14. | "But either the children | Monologue | 52 | Hughes : "The mothers | Besides the limit authority, the task of |
| | were so incorrigible, the | | | transfer the care of their | governesses becomes harder when |
| | parents so unreasonable, or | | | daughters to the governess, | their employer complaint and |
| | myself so mistaken in my | | | but are rarely satisfied with | dissatisfy with governesses' working. |
| | views, or so unable to | | | the resultsthe ambiguity | In Victorian era, there were many |
| | carry them out, that my | | | of the governess' role in | mothers of upper class family employ |
| | best intentions and most | | | other people's households. | governess take care of their children |
| | strenuous efforts seemed | | | They wanted her there to | and their education, but they were |
| | productive of no better | | | take charge of their | usually doubt about the abilities of |
| | result than sport to the | | | daughters' education, yet | governess. In the novel, Agnes |
| | children, dissatisfaction to | | | distrusted her abilities and | experiences that Bloomfield's |
| | their parents, and torment | | | character." (qtd. in Mehla | frequently blame Agnes for every |
| | to myself." | | | 47). | fault that made by their children. The |
| | | | | | task of Agnes becomes harder when |
| | | | | | Bloomfield's parents don't satisfy |
| | | | | | with Agnes's job. Agnes must face |
| | | | | | multiple problems at once. Agnes |

| | | must thinking about to control her |
|--|--|--|
| | | pupils and also the discontent of the |
| | | parents. Even though Agnes tries to |
| | | do the best with her limit power, Mrs. |
| | | Bloomfield are often censure Agnes |
| | | skill as governess. |
| | | |